

THE FAIRGROUND ACTLAB

Got an act? ...Need to get it together?

Give your performance piece an experienced pair of eyes.

Do you have just the inklings of an idea or a fully developed piece and cant find the time, space and focus?

Then Fairground ACTLAB Workshops can help take your art to the next stage.

FAIRGROUND ACTLAB Workshops are a vehicle to creating new and exciting contemporary works.

Experienced performers, writers and directors Beck Wilson and Scott Henman are facilitating a series of workshops aimed at developing and directing specific theatre, art and physical performance pieces.

FAIRGROUND ACTLAB Workshops incorporate work on improvisational techniques, choreography, movement, writing, timing, complicity, individual interaction and dialogue to help to develop your work bravely in a safe environment. These inspiring and challenging workshops would suit theatre practitioners, comedians, musicians, performers and all those who wish to develop a new or existing piece. Workshops structured to cater to groups and individuals. Workshops include group and individual work.

Limited class sizes and individual one on one sessions available. Groups and troupes discount – is there more than three of you in a performing group? Discounts apply.
